This new, part-time role is ideal for someone looking for a marketing communications role which allows them the flexibility to combine part-time work with other interests or responsibilities. The aim of the role is to support the Head of Marketing and Marketing Manager with the creation and delivery of marketing content and communications in collaboration with a wide range of stakeholders across the University.

Reporting to the Marketing Manager, you'll be part of a small, motivated team with accountability for the full marketing mix across the University's entire portfolio of educational programmes. Your specific focus will be on providing marketing support to our 'internal clients'. You'll liaise with 'clients' across the University to understand their departmental marketing and communications requirements, and translate their briefs into engaging, professional and on-brand content and communications. You'll need excellent relationship building and influencing skills, and act as a brand champion to ensure brand compliance, consistent quality and accuracy across all content and communications. You'll also support our internal clients with systems access and training in our marketing systems and platforms.

Please note that experience with Hubspot and Wordpress are not required but preference will be given to those applicants who have experience working with these systems.

Duties and Responsibilities

- Develop and deliver marketing activity relating to the University's apprenticeship degree programmes; liaising with the EDGE team to understand requirements and create and distribute engaging, timely, on brand and relevant content and marketing communications and campaigns.
- Create and maintain high quality, accurate and engaging print materials and online content (in accordance with the Plan) for the Admissions, Recruitment and Visa teams, ensuring all materials are in compliance with brand guidelines (e.g. presentations, posters, leaflets, etc.)
- Collaborate with the Global Experience and Events team to develop high quality, on brand, content, collateral and communications, and deploy these internally or externally as appropriate.
- Work closely with Student Support & Development and Registry teams to ensure all printed materials and collateral are on brand, compliant, and delivered on time.
- Support the Quality team with ongoing development and maintenance of the online Academic Handbook (e.g. troubleshooting, creating templates and uploading documents).
- Manage the University's library of promotional films, ensuring that all videos are correctly tagged, formatted, and subtitled, ready for distribution across a range of platforms.
- Oversee the University's catalogue of promotional materials, creating and updating a catalogue of items including product descriptions, costs and purpose, monitoring stock levels, and placing orders to restock items when appropriate.
- Support the Marketing Manager with the creation of high quality, compelling video and still photographic content, providing creative, logistics and administrative support before and during film and photo shoots.
- Coordinate regular and ad hoc direct marketing mail drops (prospectuses, postcards, posters, etc.) briefing and managing student ambassadors to assemble mailing packs in accordance with requirements and distribute via post.
- Maintain all professional and academic staff biographies on the University's website, using WordPress, ensuring that they are kept up to date.
- Support the Marketing Manager in the execution of large-scale campaigns (e.g. Essay Competition, Digital Futures) providing administrative and logistical support.

Other ad hoc duties:

- Assist with the creation and maintenance of ad hoc web pages
- Participate in ad hoc promotional events, campaigns, clearing, as and when necessary, which may include evenings and weekends.
- Writing and editing copy for a range of internal and external audiences, across a range of channels
