The Role

Northeastern University London wishes to appoint an Assistant Professor in Macroeconomics. The appointee will contribute to the teaching activities of Northeastern University London in the area of Macroeconomics, and general service to the University either within the Faculty or in cross-Faculty tasks.

We wish to appoint a specialist in Macroeconomics. Preference may be given to candidates with active interests in the relationship of Macroeconomics to one or more of the following areas: software and/or technology; employment contexts; diversity and inclusion.

Core duties will include teaching on a range of courses and service to the institution. The University's Macroeconomics provision ranges from a full set of undergraduate courses for the BSc Economics, as well as courses to support the studies of students on the BSc Business programme and on our Mobility programmes (Northeastern exchange students).

We particularly encourage applications from those with an interest in innovative teaching, learning and assessment; those with experience of supporting a wide variety of students; and those belonging to groups underrepresented in UK higher education. We are open to appointing on a reduced fraction/job-share basis subject to our business needs.

Department

In the first instance, the appointee will work in a multidisciplinary team under the Dean for Education in Business and Economics. In a typical academic year, the team includes 20-25 academic staff, including academics in Economics, Business, Marketing, Mathematics, Statistics, and Finance & Accounting. The quality of teaching in the Faculty is high, as evidenced, for example, through scores in the National Student Survey and External Examiner reports.

About the College

Based in the heart of London, Northeastern University London has developed a reputation for delivering an excellent university experience and has exceeded all Russell Group universities for overall student satisfaction in the UK's National Student Survey for four consecutive years (NSS 2019, 2020, 2021 and 2022).

Small by design, Northeastern University London offers a vibrant, collegiate community delivering broad and academically rigorous degree programmes, designed to equip graduates with the combination of skills and knowledge that are increasingly desired by organisations, employers and society.

Northeastern University London is part of Northeastern University's Global Campus Network. Ranked #44 in the USA, Northeastern has campuses in Arlington, Boston, Charlotte, Miami, Oakland, San Jose, and Seattle in the USA, and Toronto and Vancouver in Canada.
